11th July 1952] [Sri C. Rajagopalachari]

" Now, my Finance Minister is young comparatively, and being young, he got ill after his labours. I think young men are entitled to get sick; it is only the old people who cannot afford to get sick. I am glad everyone is encouraging him to grow to his full stature and helping him, giving him all friendliness and assistance. He has undertaken great responsibilities. His task is difficult. It was most generous of him to offer to bear the brunt of my task in the worst part of my duties and he is doing it well. I am grateful to everyone that is friendly and helpful to him.

" I am glad to note he is courageous without bluster. He is prepared to ignore popular favour when the interests of the State require him to do a certain thing. It is false democracy to be blown about by the winds of popular favour. Our sails must be set firmly in the direction of our goal. Thank you, Sir, for giving me this much time."

MR. CHAIRMAN :—" The House will now adjourn to meet again at 4 o'clock on Wednesday, the 30th July 1952."

The House then adjourned.
